Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-22 were canceled as being drawn to a nonelected invention. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 10-25-2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 23-25,28,29,36,38,39 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mair, et al.-2002/0147462.

Mair discloses a method of reducing the size of a lung by placing an intrabronchial occlusion device into an air passageway and associating a medication (coating the occluder or admixing the occluder with the agent) with the occlusive device to control biologic interaction with the occluder. See p 07-09,29,30,33,34,37,90, claim 21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 26,27,30-34,41 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mair-'462 .

Mair discloses the method as claimed with the exception of the impregnating of the occluder with the medicant, the occluder including an absorptive member, and the occluder has a cavity with the medicant therein. Since Mair discloses that the occluder may be a foam, which inherently has pores, and since Mair discloses that the occluder is used in conjunction with the medicant, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to have allowed the foam to absorb the medicant, holding it in its pores, as one skilled in the art would have recognized that an obvious variation or alternative to coating some of the embodiments would have been to soak the medication into the foam. Additionally, as the area of the occluder's implantation was disclosed as being premedicated, it is also considered obvious that when placed into the airway containing the medication, that some of the medication would have entered the pores of the foam.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 37 and 40 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
